Event Focus

Innovative, Actionable and Profitable Solutions to support leadership capability readiness and sustainability of organizations and communities with right-fit talent, before the boomer brain trust retires.

Why is that important?

The future is fast upon us, and it is both disruptive and exciting! Our world is ignited by a suite of change catalysts - climate change, the digital and sharing economy, demographic shifts, technologies, and other major disruptors. To succeed in the realities of this new world, entrepreneurial, corporate and academic leaders at the helm of progressive organizations are fast tracking investments in hiring and developing right fit talent before the boomer brain trust retires in a few years.

On September 27th, RSI is presenting an action packed evening of sharing, discovery and action learning about some of these shifts – plus a powerful means for bridging the capability gap and advancing your readiness for leading in a future of predictable surprises – InterGEN Leadership.

“There is a growing vacuum behind the current leadership as they pass into retirement, resulting in a reduction in succession planning and future capacity.”
